

Notes from Sam to Tara:

1: Read "AN" as "Author's Note" because it'll sound confusing if you just say "AN." Probably best not to insert it if it isn't already there.

2: Earnest is the key word here. Prioritize being in character over being 100% faithful to the spellings. I think the idea here is more to show how Tara would talk, not to read the text as written. If Tara would say something in a certain way, say it that way, but I don't think anyone's buying that she thinks "reviews" is a way to talk. Rush, stumble over your words, be hyper, but don't make it seem like you're aware that there's anything dumb about what you're saying or how you're saying it.

3: Whenever a url is referenced, like the picture of Amy Lee, just begin reading any URL out. I'll edit things so I just cut you off and go back to the text. This will cover for the fact that FFN stripped the urls out of the fic.

4: As mentioned before, some of these are on the line between Ebony and Tara speaking, so just record everything in bold (and anything you see that you think you should read even if Elf didn't bold it) and I can make the call in the editing stage.

5: I also need a "by Tara Gilesbie" or "by xxxbloodyristsxxx" whatever the hell the username is, for the intro. Your call on which name to use.

6: Please mute all devices and computers and such before rolling, and record away from anything making a noise if possible, like a computer fan. In fact the purpose of recording using iphones is to avoid the issue of computer noise.

7: Thank you very much!
